The annoyances have taken almost every form imginable, even going so far as attempts on his life, he says. His German blood is aroused and he has laid in a supply of buckshot with which to emphasize his warning if necessary.

WIND AND BALL GOSSIP

STERNBERGER-Leon, of Huntington, W. Va. | THIS HETEROGENEOUS COMBINATION WILL BE ON DECK IN MARCH.

> Western League Schedule Meeting This Week-Foreman Does Not Want to Play Here.

March is at hand-the month that brings lots of wind, a possible taste of spring and plenty of ball players. Three weeks from now the Indianapolis players will be here and an expectant public will have a chance to size up the '97 team. Manager Watkins has numerous contracts out and expects quite a crop within the next ten days. There will be the usual number of "hold-outs" no doubt but in the end the players will all fall in line and start in for three weeks of practice, which should put them in shape for the season's opening, toward the close of April. There will not be so much advance money distributed this season as in the past. The players will be sent transportation-those who apply for it -but advance money will be scarce.

The meeting of the schedule committee in Detroit this week will be the next matter to engross the attention of those who are interested in the Western League. Indianapolis will not be able to play Sunday ball and the committee can, therefore, block out the games more intelligently and satisfactorily than last year so far as this city is concerned. It is well that this point is settled in advance of the schedule meeting this time. Indianapolis should get all the holiday dates at home, as it is the best paying city in the Western League. To have the holiday games here means more money for both home and visiting teams than if such games were played at Grand Rapids or Columbus. Frank Foreman doesn't want to play here and has applied to the national board for his release from reservation. This application will do him no good. He will be better off here than anywhere else outside the National League, and that organization doesn't want him as all the clubs waived Foreman will likely come around to a sensible way of looking at things and report in season for the April exhibition games. He never was an easy man to Weimar is another refractory pitcher. The bushy-haired left-hander also wants his release from reservation, but will not be likely to get it. He has no reasonable ground for such application. All clubs experience some trouble getting their players in line and Indianapolis is no exception. Manager Watkins will have no more than the average amount of trouble this year. He would not know what to think were all his players to sign without a murmur. Such a condition of affairs would strengthen his belief in the early approach of the millennium.

The New York club has under contract twenty-three players, including ten pitchers, four catchers, four outfielders and five infielders. All have been notified to report in New York city on March 12, as it is the intention of Manager Joyce to leave for Lakewood on Monday, March 15. Unless the present blans are changed the players will stay at Lakewood until April 10, when they will return to the metropolis and play exhibition games until the opening of the hampionship season. Notwithstanding all that has been said about Lakewood as a training place. Mamager Joyce intends to take no chances. During the latter part of next week he will spend a few days in Virginla and engage a ground, to be held in readiness should the weather at Lakewood interfere with outdoor practice. Day Made Inspector of Umpires. BALTIMORE, Feb. 27.-The basebal magnates left Baltimore to-night, to meet in Philadelphia next fall. They decided to hold next winter's schedule meeting in St. Louis. Petitions from several umpires, said to be Emslie, Lynch and Hurst, asking for an increase of salary, were received and referred to President Young. Then the board took up the report of the committee on umpires and finally decided to make John B. Day supervising inspector of umpires and players, with a salary of $2,000 per annum, which is $1,000 less than the committee recommended. President "Nick" Young's salary was increased to the tune of $1,000 per annum, after which the meeting adjourned termined to hold three stated meetings during the current season, namely: On April 12. June 14 and Aug. 9, in New York and in other cities to be selected at the first meeting. The case of Pitcher Hutchinson now in Minneapolis, then came up and it was adjudged that President Von der Ahe of St. Louis, had first claim upon his services. Then the directors adjourned and all the magnates left for their respective Ball Notes. Rusie's case will come up in the United States Circuit Court to-morrow.

Arlie Latham claims that his arm is again strong, thanks to bowling and indoor base-Should Clarke and McCreery fail to report in Louisville on March 22, President

Pulliam says they will not be allowed to play all season. Pitcher Ed Beadle, last season with the Washington team of the Interstate League, has been signed by Detroit. Beadle is a fine pitcher.-Pittsburg Post.

Much of the Phillies' practice down South will be devoted to signal work, and in this line of the art Stallings fully expects to show the knowing ones a few things.

"Two coachers are needed to watch the play." says Captain Joyce, "and besides, if you get to restricting coaching too much you take away some of the life of the game." Shortsop Dolan, of the Louisvilles, only missed fifteen out of 255 chances in fortyeight games last year. He gives promise of being one of the crackerjack shortstops of the league. As soon as the weather will permit work will be begun on the diamond at the Milwaukee park. The infield will be leveled off and the entire surface of the diamond will be covered with a layer of sod. Nash is anxious to know just what the Philadelphia club is going to do with him. He has not yet been tendered a contract, and says he would rather be released outright if the club does not want his services. A circuit of baseball clubs has just been organized in Mexico, embracing the cities of Monterey, Saltillo, San Luis Potosi and lity of Mexico. The season will open as con as the different clubs can get in good training. The Pittsburg Commercial Gazette says: Manager Hanlon has decided to lend Catcher Frank Bowerman to the Grand Rapids team of the Western League the coming season, as he will hardly need any extra catchers.

Manager Stallings is gratified over the fact that not one of the Phillies has so far refused to take the Southern trip, and he thinks that with anything like good weather south he will return to the city with the men in the best of condition.

Columbus fans are congratulating Tom Loftus on his being able to secure Catcher O'Meara. He is a very good player, but when he plays on the same team with George Tebeau he tries to act tough, just like "Brother George." If he can get rid of that style of playing he'll become a good player some day.-Toledo Blade. Editor Richter, of the Sporting Life, has this to say of a Detroit backstop: "Catcher Mike Trost, who is regarded as a revised edition of the lamented 'King' Kelly, has signed with Detroit for 1897. Mike has not touched a drop since the season closed. and says that he expects to report for duty in the pink of condition. He looks fine. Hanlon has been trying to get some definite answer from Louisville in the matter of buying Quinn, but so far has not succeeded. Quinn wants to play regularly, and for that reason would like to be sold to Louisville. Hanion is willing to oblige him. If Quinn goes, Hanlon has his eye on a promising young fielder to act substitute. F. De H. Robison, before leaving New York recently, told a reporter that he

Open for Business To-Morrow, March 1

From the Journal of Feb. 21, 1897: * * * Briefly expressed, the superior claims of such a studio over the usual down-town gallery may be said to include its convenient proximity to the homes of our best people, avoiding the necessity of going down among the crowded thorough-fares. The reception, dressing and operating rooms being upon the ground floor, no stair or elevator ascension is required, these points being particularly favorable to ladies, the aged and

From the Journal of Feb. 26, 1897: * * * "The operator will be Mr. John Nicholson, vice president of the Photographic Convention (which will meet in this city next week), and one of the most eminent of American artists in posing and lighting. Mr. Kitchell is an officer and director of a well-known art corporation of New York and Chicago, and a member of the Print Association, of Great Britain: is advantageously qualified to superintend a studio conducted upon lines of highest excellence and will personally devote to it a large portion of his time." ***

From the Journal of Feb. 26, 1897: * * "It seems to indicate that the residence studio idea will meet with favor here as in other cities, and its advantages, as developed by Mr. Kitchell ever the ordinary gallery, certainly warrant us in recommending it in highest etc., in burnished and mat surface effects, special attention will be given to large work or life size scale, burnished in platinum or carbon, and in exceptional fluish. Furthermore, there will be introduced novelties exclusively controlled by Mr. Kitchell and protected by patents and trademarks, prominent among which will be a color process excelling in marked degree all former color processes applied to photo portraiture. RADIOGRAPH DEPARTMENT

The facilities for negative making and for screen projection will be similar to those in daily use at Bellevue Hospital, New York, and will prove a valuable and convenient aid to physicians and surgeons in this city and vicinity. PRICES MODERATE. No higher than any other photo gallery in Indianapoli's. CONVENIENT LOCATION

The Studio is situated in the center of the best residence portion of the city. The Pennsylvania cars pass its door, and one fare will take you directly there from any part of the city. CHILDREN'S PICTURES Unusual facilities in the way of rapid lenses, good light and apparatus promise and assure perfect satisfaction to parents in the portraiture

Of special importance to the medical profession will be this department, fitted with a complete equipment for R adjographic Photography.

No stairs or elevator-everything on the ground floor. It is not the anticipation or desire to monopolize the photograph business of Indianapolis—the limited space possibilities of a Home Studio preclude any wholesale methods—but with the exceptional advantages embraced there is reasonable assurance that the Residence Studio will be appreciated by a sufficient number of our citizens to receive at least a complement of their patronage.

You are cordially invited to call and inspect the facilities for high-class photography and the attendant conveniences. JOSEPH GRAY KITCHELL, 614 N. Pennsylvania St.

President Leadley, of Grand Rapids, Friday signed James F. Slagle, considered one of the fastest and best outfielders in the country. He was taken by Boston from last year's Texas League and Grand Rapids bought him outright from the big three In Texas in 1896 he played 131 games, made The year before he was in Omaha, and in 86 games he made 114 runs, 178 hits and averaged .345 with the stick. He is very fast in going down to first and is a good fielder and thrower. Those who saw him play last year say he is the best man that has come from Texas into the Western

The national board of arbitration unanimously decided that Outfielder George Nicol should be given to Milwaukee on ground that Philadelphia had no right to club, and that such action was contrary to the spirit of the draft rule. The board also unanimously refused to reopen the case of Newton Fisher, claimed by Detroit and Mobile, and affirmed the decision of President Young, awarding Fisher to Mobile, The claim of Morton against the Grand Rapids club for money was allowed. These were the only cases before the board, according to President Young.

The Milwaukee Wisconsin says: "Manager Glenalvin, in a letter to President Killilea, offered $1,000 for the release of Pitcher Bert Jones. The brewery magnate just smiled and said: 'Come again.' Glenalvin is in earnest in getting a strong team for Grand Rapids and he realizes that he will have to spend a few dollars to get the twiriers of the right caliber. When 'Glen' was here recently he stated that he considered Jones one of the most wonderful pitchers in the country to-day, and he expects to see him do great work the coming season. There are other managers who would willingly give $1,000 for his release. If Jones pitches in the same form that he did toward the close of last season he will indeed be a wonder.
